

I have always enjoyed going to this particular spot in rural Victoria because of the rich colours and organic shapes of the trees in autumn. My main intention was to make the viewer aware of how magnificent the natural environment is and to not take it for granted.

