

I admire how traditional portraiture raises the question for the viewer "What is the life story behind the sitter?" In my self-portrait study I aimed to portray myself in a pondering and quizzical state, totally serene and at peace.

