

Ideas were approached from an engineering and human usage perspective. Understanding new technologies and trends guided design decisions in these areas. The vehicles' control, usability, ergonomics and styling were designed and directed towards the needs of future users.

