
YEAR 10 SUBJECTS

Religion: The Journey

Take a pilgrimage to explore how religion has been interpreted and reflected within various cultures throughout history. This includes art, literature, media, film, music and television, as well as the influence of inspirational people. Students will study individual and community religious expression within the 5 major religious traditions. The concept of spirituality will be illustrated, through representative examples and some hands-on sessions, demonstrating how many people are leaning more towards the mystical and spiritual aspects of life and religion.

Generic skills that are considered across all the subjects in the Religious Studies faculty include:

- Recognising and understanding the place of the spiritual in community, in personal relationships, and in making ethical and moral decisions
- Valuing difference and diversity in self and others
- Analysing and interpreting Biblical and sacred texts
- The ethical use of ICT

Subject specific skills for this area:

- You will read, reflect on, and study various texts, to understand sources of inspiration and interpretation
- You will analyse the common threads, and differences in religious and spiritual expression
- You will appreciate and illustrate an awareness of other religions, cultures and spiritualities
- You will explore personal understandings of how faith affects life choices

ASSESSMENT

There will be four outcomes to meet throughout the year and one end of year examination.
