“Year 11 Media provides the opportunity to view films in a fresh light. You engage with films and news media on a technical and creative basis, analysing the manipulation technique in both mediums to eventually create your own movie project. Films are analysed beyond their surface level, looking at their specific creation and construction. For one unit, our cohort looked at John Carpenter movies (The Thing and Escape from New York) and how they were constructed in a way that was similar to western films. Another involved the planning and creation of our own movie. The content is easily accessible to anyone (taught by an especially enthusiastic teacher) and the movies are watched in class. There’s a lot on offer for followers, fans and casual goers of general media (social media, movies and films, news, etc).”
