➤ New Bachelor of Design

With the first intake in Semester 1, 2017, the Bachelor of Design will create new pathways for students who are passionate about the use of design and creative approaches across a wide range of disciplines and professions, and give students contemporary opportunities for their graduate study and career prospects.

There will be eleven majors will available:

- Architecture
- Construction
- Computing
- Civil Systems
- Digital Media
- Landscape Architecture
- Mechanical Systems
- Property
- Spatial Systems
- Urban Planning
- Visual and Performance Design

The new degree will provide students with great flexibility, in the form of new majors, double majors, minors and unique specialisations. Students will study the application of design to a wide range of contexts, from the macro-level of the metropolis to the construction of buildings, bridges, and landscapes, even right down to the small-scale of systems and micro-structures.

In light of these developments, the University will not take new students into the Bachelor of Environments in 2017.

The new Design degree will encompass a number of the pathways to masters programs currently available within the Bachelor of Environments and students interested in environmental science and sustainability will continue to be able to access an exciting range of majors through the Bachelor of Arts and the Bachelor of Science. Current Environments students will be unaffected by these changes.

➤ Bachelor of Science - Videos

Melbourne's Bachelor of Science (BSc) provides an excellent foundation across a broad range of science and technology study areas and equips students with career-ready knowledge and skills. The course provides flexible pathways to employment, research higher degrees and many professional postgraduate programs.

To graduate with a BSc, students must complete a major and to help students decide about their major the university has developed a set of first year videos to assist students in their course planning.

The videos are less than two minutes each, are easy to watch and very informative.

Scholarships at Bond University

Bond University offers an extensive scholarship program to both domestic and international students, with values ranging from 25% scholarships to 100%. It is important to note that applications for the 2017 Scholarship Program for Australian Year 12 students are now open and close on 31 July 2016.

Some of the scholarships on offer include:

1. Vice-Chancellor's Elite Scholarship – awarded to a Year 12 student with exceptional academic achievements, an expected ATAR of over 95, proven leadership ability, personal character and extensive involvement in extra-curricular activities. The value of this scholarship is 100% of tuition fees for any single or combined degree (excluding MBBS).

2. The Padma and Hari Harilela Scholarships - awarded to outstanding students from around the globe, looking to study at either undergraduate or postgraduate level. These scholarships open the door to applicants with strong achievements in both community involvement and contribution, and academia. Applicants must meet the prerequisites and the admissions entry standard for their chosen degree. Submission of a 500-word personal statement outlining the applicant's community involvement and contribution, as well as personal attributes and academic achievements. Awardees received a total of $10,000 (domestic students) and $15,000 (international students).
3. Excellence Scholarships – awarded to Year 12 students with an anticipated ATAR of over 92.00, demonstrating exceptional potential, strong leadership skills and extensive involvement in extra-curricular activities. The value of the scholarships is 50% of tuition fees for any single or combined degree (excluding MBBS).
4. John Burton Cadetship – awarded to a high-achieving Year 12 student who has strong academic credentials (As/Bs in Year 11 and 12 school reports), and a demonstrated commitment to a career in journalism. Applicants should also demonstrate strong leadership skills and an extensive involvement in extra-curricular activities. This scholarship contributes 50% towards the tuition fees for the Bachelor of Journalism, and students embark upon a four-year program of work and study, working full-time at the Gold Coast Bulletin as a cadet journalist and full-time study towards a Bachelor of Journalism degree at the University. On successful completion of the four-year program, scholars graduate to a guaranteed position as a journalist at the Gold Coast Bulletin.
5. Collegiate Scholarship – offered to a Year 12 student from The Knox School and designed to reward students who demonstrate strong leadership skills, extensive involvement in extra-curricular activities, and who anticipate an ATAR of above 87.00 (Year 11 and 12 school reports should reflect As and Bs) and applicants should also meet the standard entry requirements for their chosen program of study. The value of the scholarships is 50% tuition for any undergraduate degree combination (excluding MBBS).

Year 12 students are able to apply for any of these scholarships until the closing date. Scholarship applications should be submitted online and applications are already open! Students should note that only one applications needs to be made, and students can apply for as many scholarships they wish.

Difference between a Physiotherapist and Occupational Therapist?

According to the Difference Between website, the main differences can be summarised below:

- Physiotherapy deals with the muscles and limbs of a person. It helps in recovery and enables a person to move around. Occupational therapy deals with this and much more. It is all about a person making the best of his home as well as his occupation.
- Physiotherapy does not involve anything about the mind. However, occupational therapy has a lot to do with the mental faculties of a person.
- Occupational therapy helps a person in improving his functional abilities. Physical therapy focuses only on his physical abilities.
- A physiotherapist may prescribe a few medicines. However, an occupational therapist generally doesn't. OT vs. Physiotherapy*
